

Performing Arts Production Company

Last Updated Monday, 20 April 2009

PERFORMING ARTS PRODUCTION COMPANY

Pneuma Arts Limited was formed and registered as a company in 1999. Since then, Pneuma Arts has produced several successful productions including concert versions of Shake the Nation in 2000 and Esther in June 2001 at the Spitalfields Arts Festival. This was followed by a production of Esther at the Palace Theatre Shaftesbury Avenue with a full symphony orchestra and West End Cast.

At Pneuma Arts we believe the heart of creating a successful production in any field of the media is a creative collaboration between people who bring talent, expertise and experience to their craft. Pneuma Arts is a company dedicated to building healthy collaborative relationships between talented people with exciting ideas in order to create challenging works of significant artistic value.

In 1996, Paul Knight approached friend and colleague Peter Hutchinson to set up an performing arts production company which would concentrate on producing new and innovative work whilst training and nurturing creative talent. PNEUMA ARTS LIMITED was formed and registered in 1999.